

ENVIRONMENTAL SOLUTIONS

A practical and collaborative approach to managing your environmental risks

DELIVERING SOLUTIONS

WSP Environmental Pty Ltd (WSP) provides comprehensive environmental solutions to a variety of industries and government.

We help our clients manage or mitigate environmental risk and protect asset value, and as a consequence strengthen their business. We have built a strong track record in the successful completion of an extensive range of diverse and multi-disciplinary environmental investigation, remediation and management projects.

Our Approach

We are a dynamic and innovative environmental consultancy with a highly motivated and experienced team that assists organisations to gain real benefits from a practical and strategic approach to risk management.

Our value is demonstrated by the skills of our professional staff and is reflected in the depth and quality of our customer base.

We build successful teams around some of the world's leading experts and have a culture that promotes a collaborative approach to problem solving. We sell value, not time, using local experts working to global best practice.

All of WSP's consultants are qualified in various science and engineering fields. WSP's Engineers, Scientists and Principals are service oriented, responsive and work efficiently to meet client deadlines within allocated budgets.

Introducing WSP

WSP Environmental Pty Ltd is a leading international environmental and sustainability consulting business with over 1,000 staff based in 65 offices across the world.

WSP Environmental is part of WSP Group plc, a leading international consultancy to the built and natural environment.

In Australia we have around 500 people in total, with leading green building services and environmental engineering consultancy, Lincolne Scott, forming part of our Group. Our strong regional presence also benefits from connection to our global structure with its acknowledged reputation for delivery of best practice. Our Australian business is proud to have strong foundations in the domestic market and is delighted to count many of Australia's best companies amongst our clients.

OUR SERVICES

The acquisition, development, management and divestment of land potentially carries uncertainty, financial risk and liability for all stakeholders involved.

At WSP we help our clients by providing a comprehensive range of consulting and contracting services to assess contaminated land, manage associated risks and protect asset value. These services include:

- Phase I & II assessments (Preliminary and Detailed Site Investigations) of contaminated sites
- Hydrogeological assessment and management
- Groundwater impact studies for mining applications in support of consent
- Water resource hydrogeology for water supply and resource management
- Predictive contaminant fate and transport modeling
- Design, management and remediation of contaminated sites
- Strategic advice in relation to contaminated & non-contaminated sites
- EPA contaminated land Site Audits and Third Party reviews
- Environmental liability solutions
- Human health and ecological risk assessment

- Dangerous goods advice, waste classification, disposal and monitoring
- Hazardous Material Survey and asbestos management
- Decommissioning, decontamination and demolition surveys and plans
- Remediation Action Plans, Site Management Plans and Environmental Management Plans

We conduct projects for some of Australia's largest property, investment, construction, petrochemical and industrial businesses. Our team also has valuable relationships with a number of smaller developers and companies, as well as governments at national, state and local levels.

Regardless of the size of the project, our dedication to providing responsive, efficient, technically accurate and cost effective solutions is the cornerstone upon which we continue to build stronger and closer relationships with our clients.

Our core values encourage pride in our company, our work and our clients. We strive to demonstrate our passion for professionalism and constant improvement.
